

Most people are familiar with using energy pendulums for testing food, supplements, asking basic questions; some know how to use them to send, or rather direct healing vibrations to the target. Those are active methods of using energy pendulums, but a less known method is using them in a passive way.

In this method - the pendulum is laying horizontally and pointing towards a "witness" - a picture or something representing the target - a tissue with saliva or a drop of blood, even a signature. In between you can place things you would like to send to the target - herbs, vitamins, minerals, etc.

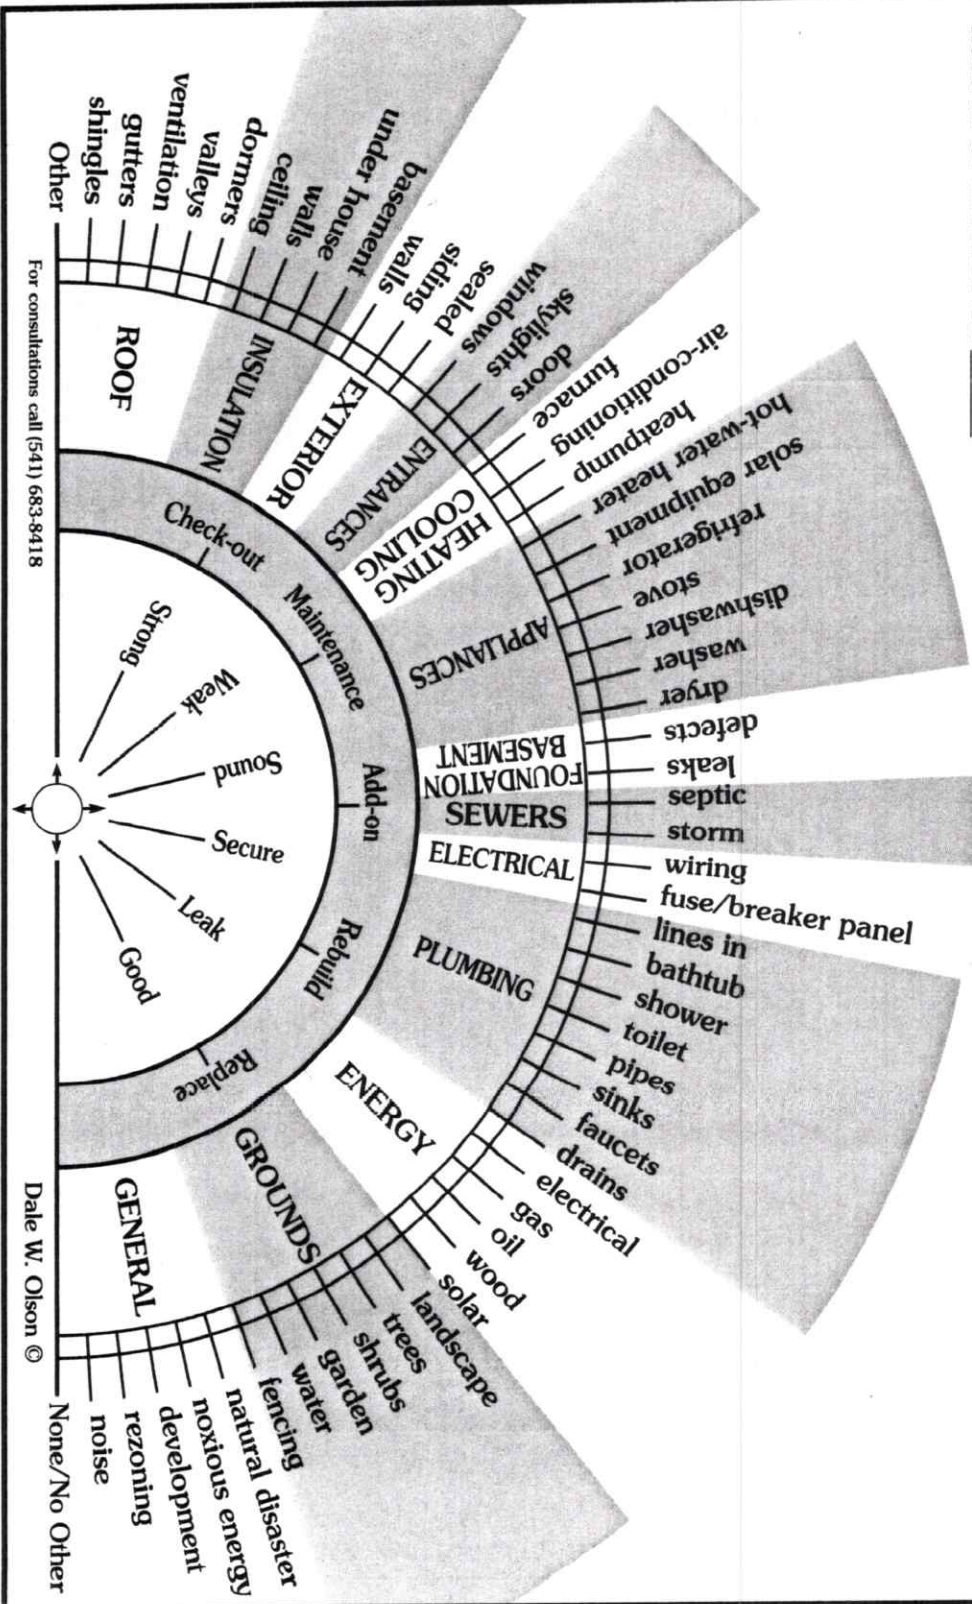

How it works? First you create an intent to send the energy of the things you want to send to the target with a program that doing so cannot do any harm and the sending will stop when adequate amount is received by the target. What happens is that the white spectrum vibration generated in this case by the Isis pendulum will pick up the vibration of the herbs, vitamins or minerals and send it to the target. The distance doesn't seem to matter and it happens instantaneously. Try it and see how easy it is and you don't have to be there.
